

FIRST BATTLE ON THE PRIMARY BILL

Other Matters Will be Held In Abeyance Until That Is Settled.

THE FORCES BEHIND IT

Both Sides Claim to Have Votes Enough In Senate to Answer Their Purpose.

OTHER LEGISLATIVE MATTERS

Madison, Wis., Feb. 19.—While there are many other measures of great importance before the Wisconsin legislature, they will all be obscured and held in abeyance until the battle over the primary election bill has been fought.

In a large measure the fate of the bill will depend largely upon Governor La Follette's ability to bring the opposing senators into line. Some of the stalwarts of the upper house, notably Long Jones, are said to be bitterly and uncompromisingly opposed to doing away with the convention system, by which the have won prestige and some renown, and they say that twenty of the thirty-three senators will vote against the bill, despite the party platform pledge. On the other hand the administration forces claim to have eighteen members who will support it. Should the bill fail the attitude of Governor La Follette will be interesting to see.

It is said that rather than see the measure go under that the governor himself will appear before the legislature to remind the members of the sanctity of a party pledge, and another message on the subject would not be a surprise.

AVALANCHE OF NEW BILLS.

Six Measures Drafted by the Tax Commission Introduced.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 19.—In the senate last evening six bills drafted by the tax commission were introduced. Two relate to the taxation of street railways and telephone companies and are drawn along the lines recommended by the commission in its recent report. Another bill provides for the organization of reinsurance companies and the other bills relate to assessment of property. The bills were introduced by Senator Whitehead and referred to the committee on assessment and collection of taxes. The same bills were introduced in the assembly by Mr. Hall today.

There was an avalanche of new bills in both houses of the legislature last night, forty-three coming into the senate and seventy-one into the assembly. Among the new bills introduced in the assembly but which were not read is one by Assemblyman Cady that provides that marriages between negroes and whites shall be considered void. Mr. Owen has a bill that provides that prison made goods shall be labeled, and Mr. Overbeck offered another against the operation of slot machines in the state. Mr. Whitson has a kidnapping bill providing a penalty of from five to twenty years.

Senator McGillivray introduced three bills providing for the construction of pleasure drives in cities, villages and in the country. Common councils are authorized to establish pleasure drives in cities on petition of a majority of the abutting property owners and the same number is required in the country.

Encourage Beet Sugar Factories. Assemblyman Zinn will introduce a bill that will provide that all beet sugar factories in the state can be exempted from taxation. This is done to encourage the industry.

The district attorney of Milwaukee has prepared a bill providing a penalty of from one to ten years or a fine of $500 or $1000 for administering drug with intent to commit murder, burglary, robbery, kidnapping and other crimes.

HANNA IS A COLONEL.

On Staff of Ohio Department Commander of G. A. R.

Washington, Feb. 19.—It is "Colonel" Hanna now. The junior senator from Ohio became entitled to that appellation yesterday, when he received from General Elias P. Mott of Cincinnati, commander of the department of Ohio, G. A. R., a commission as special aid on his staff, with the rank of colonel.

Senator Hanna's rise in the G. A. R. has been rather speedy. He became a member of the organization only two weeks ago as a plain "comrade."

Mr. Hanna was a lieutenant in the Union army during the civil war. The greater part of his military service was performed just outside of Washington, when, with the One Hundred and Fiftieth Ohio infantry, he helped to guard the approaches to the national capital.

Berlin, Feb. 19.—Count von Alvensleben, former German minister at Brussels, who has been appointed to succeed Prince von Radolinski as ambassador at St. Petersburg, will leave for the Russian capital this week. It is reported that he will carry an important message direct from the kaiser to the czar on the subject of maintaining the peace of Europe, with a reference to Queen Victoria's deathbed advice on that subject.

TWO MORE CITIES GET CARNEGIE AID

Galesburg, Ill., and St. Cloud, Minn., Will Receive Library Buildings from the Millionaire.

Galesburg, Ill., Feb. 19.—The announcement yesterday that Andrew Carnegie had given $50,000 to Galesburg for a library was first made to the Knox college students at chapel by President Thomas Clelland, who conducted the correspondence, and A. J. Perry, the president of the board.

In his letter Mr. Carnegie lays down the conditions that the city must provide a suitable site and guarantee $5,000 a year for the support of the library. The site has already been provided. The council by resolution last night made the necessary guarantee about maintenance.

Another for St. Cloud.

St. Cloud, Minn., Feb. 19.—In reply to a request Alvan Eastman today received a letter from James Burtram secretary of Andrew Carnegie, from New York, reading as follows:

NEGRO GIVEN TRIAL AND THEN HANGED

LYNCHED BY AN EXCITED MOB AT DYERSBURG, TENN.

Doomed Man Confesses—He Implicates In His Confession Another Negro and the Mob May Lynch Him Also—The Crime Was a Dastardly Attack Upon a Young Lady.

Dyersburg, Tenn., Feb. 19.—Fred King, the negro who attacked Miss Elsie Arnold of this city, was lynched at 1:04 p. m. No masks were worn by the lynchers.

King narrowly escaped being hanged one day earlier, but it was decided to give him a trial in the courthouse, beginning at 9 o'clock. A jury of twelve business men and farmers was formed and evidence was produced before them. The prisoner was allowed to go on the stand in his own behalf. It was shown that King's shoes were found under the steps in the rear of the Arnold residence, and that bloodhounds trailed his barefoot tracks from the Arnold residence to his home. When King had concluded his case was submitted to the jury. After a short deliberation the foreman announced the verdict, saying that the jury had found the prisoner guilty beyond a doubt. A wild rush was made for King, while angry voices shouted from all parts of the densely packed house, "Kill him, kill him. Hang him. Burn him."

King Makes a Confession.

Up to this point King had denied his guilt. J. C. Doyle said to him: "Fred, you are a doomed man; you are going to be hung; nothing that you may say now will affect your fate so far as this world is concerned. Tell the truth about this affair; don't go to eternity with a lie on your lips. Did you do this thing?"

"Yes, Mr. Doyle," he said, "I did, but Bee Montgomery is as guilty as I am. I saw him down at U. B. F. hall (a colored secret order), Saturday night, and made it up with him that I would come and whistle for him, and that we would go to Dr. Arnold's room; we went to Miss Elsie's room. The back door was unlocked. When we got in the room Bee struck a match, then I struck Miss Elsie with a stick of stove wood. She started to rise up. Bee snatched the stick away from me and said: 'Give me the stick,' and struck her again. She screamed, then we got scared and ran away, and I forgot my shoes."

Officers then went out to arrest Montgomery, who had been released the day before. While the people were waiting for Montgomery to be brought, Parson McAulry, colored pastor of the colored Presbyterian church of this city, pleaded for Divine mercy on the soul of the doomed wretch. Most of the crowd bowed their heads while he prayed.

Montgomery Confesses King. When Montgomery was brought to the courthouse he was taken into the grand jury room, and before a few witnesses, including the officers, was confronted by Fred King, who again made the statement implicating Montgomery. Bee Montgomery was given a trial in the afternoon at the courthouse before another jury of prominent citizens. Their verdict after taking the testimony of several was to the effect that the evidence was not sufficiently conclusive to warrant summary punishment in his case.

Two More Lynchings Likely.

All day the town has been filled with men from the surrounding counties, many of whom came here with the intention of lynching the Fitzgeralds, a young negro who attacked a couple of young women a few days ago in Lake county. The negro was arrested in Lake county, but on account of fear of lynching was lodged in jail here.

MILWAUKEE HEROLD BUILDING BURNED

Four-Story Building Occupied by German Newspaper, Destroyed by Fire—Employees Narrow Escape.

The printers, pressmen and reporters in the Herold had a narrow escape.

WAR IN SUGAR MAY INVOLVE THE WORLD

MANY POWERS SUPPORT THE ACTION OF THE CZAR.

Jealous of Competition—European Countries Irritated Because the United States Has Been Making Extraordinary Strides in Selling Its Food Products in the Old World.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The latest phase of the Russian tariff war is found in the alarming possibility that others of Europe will follow the lead of the Russian minister of finance and take steps to shut out United States products as Russia has done. This possibility was earnestly discussed on both sides of the capitol today.

It was acknowledged by senators and representatives who are familiar with the causes that led M. De Witte to take retaliatory steps against the United States that there has been for a long time in the minds of the statesmen of Germany, Great Britain, France and other countries feelings of deepest resentment and irritation because of the extraordinary strides which the United States have made in competition with the manufactures and food products of the old world. Germany has been disposed to harass the United States in various ways by imposition of high duties for several years. France has been in an ugly frame of mind ever since the personal search or inspection clause of the Dingley tariff law so greatly reduced the purchases of American tourists in Paris and other French cities.

The countervailing duty imposed upon Russian sugar imported into the United States and the retaliatory measure adopted by the Russian authorities, were explained by Secretary Gage today. The secretary does not attempt to minimize the importance of the step, but says he could not do otherwise. In speaking of the action taken, Secretary Gage said:

"It is not a question of what the manufacturers desire or think ought to be. It is not a question of what the sugar refiners or our beet raisers desire or think ought to be. It is a question purely of law and fact. The secretary of the treasury is sworn to enforce the law, not to make law. The late decision as to the liability of Russian sugar to pay a countervailing duty is based on the department's apprehension of the law and of the facts."

LIVES OF 4 FIREMEN ARE CRUSHED OUT

Fatal Result of Falling Walls in a Packing House Fire at New Haven, Connecticut.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 19.—Four men were killed and one fatally injured in a fire which destroyed an unoccupied factory on Winchester avenue. The dead are: Capt. Joseph Congdon, fireman Edward Hale, William Riley, Frank Williams. Injured: Henry Powell, fearfully burned. The fire was discovered at 1:30 o'clock, and as the building is situated over a mile from the center of the city had gained considerable headway before the department reached the scene. Before the men had been at work five minutes the front wall fell, burying a number of them in the ruins. Willing hands set about the rescue and succeeded in reaching Powell, who was near the edge of the wreck. The four dead men were next found. The fire itself, while totally destroying the building in which it originated, was prevented from spreading to the adjacent structures. The loss has not been determined.

It would mean, they say, a recognition of the union, such as they do not intend to grant. Several believe it is the first move toward another big strike, and is made to show that the union offered the operators a fair opportunity to meet an amicable conference for adjustment of grievances.

FORTY ARMED MEN ACT AS CRUSADERS

Leavenworth, Kansas, Feb. 19.—Forty armed farmers acting as crusaders surrounded Lockner Bros' saloon at ten o'clock last night to notify the jointists to close, when they opened fire with Winchesters. The crusaders fled, but returned and a pitched battle followed. Hundreds of shots were exchanged. The judge remanded her to the custody of the sheriff, and she will be held in the hospital ward of the county prison.

HAY TALKS ON BOER WAR.

Consul at Pretoria, in London, Says Conflict Is Far from Ended.

London, Feb. 19.—Adebert Hay, United States consul at Pretoria, has arrived in London, en route for America on leave of absence. Whether he will resume his duties after his sojourn at home depends on circumstances.

The young diplomat's thirteen-months' residence in South Africa has left him in perfect health. He is tall, broad shouldered and tanned like a veteran campaigner. Mr. Hay has many friends in London, among Americans. They are giving him a royal welcome. He said to your correspondent this morning:

"Ultimately peace will return to South Africa; then that country will boom. How soon this will come cannot be foretold. The Boers are fighting with courage and tenacity. Those best acquainted with the situation do not look for a cessation of hostilities for some months. 'Dewet astonishes everybody with his exploits. His successes do not spring from luck, but from an unerring knowledge of the country, great endurance and remarkable military skill. 'The Boers are conducting a magnificent military campaign. The end, of course, will come in time, and then South Africa will boom as never before. I anticipate that Americans will show up well in this friendly competition. Already our country is represented in South Africa by many able and active men. They hold positions of authority in connection with the gold mines and stand ready to push American mercantile interests when opportunity offers."

"The military government of the Transvaal has been excellent from the beginning, but there has been no incentive to attempt to engage vigorously in the pursuits of peace. 'America's consular interests at Pretoria are at present in the hands of William H. Gordon, whose activity and ability are doing much for our business welfare in that country."

Charles E. Baggott of Cincinnati was in the city yesterday looking over the local leaf market. Mr. Baggott is an extensive packer of Wisconsin leaf.

ORDER CHAFFEE TO KEEP HANDS OFF

United States Will Try to Avert a War with China.

WARNING TO GERMANY

Washington Officials Fear a General War and Partition of Empire.

MAY HAVE TO ACT ALONE

Peking, Feb. 19.—The foreign ministers here have notified the Chinese plenipotentiaries that the government at Signan Fu will be given eight days to issue satisfactory edicts for the punishment of the officials indicated in the ministers' recent note.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Germany's war lord is the disturber of the peace in China. There is a serious conflict between the purposes of the United States and the German government. Orders were today cabled Gen. Chaffee in charge of the American forces in China, directing him not to take part in the campaign of force which Count von Waldersee is now organizing.

The German field marshal had asked that detachments of troops from all the allied forces be assigned to his command for the purpose of making a raid toward the western part of the empire, probably with the court's residence as the objective point in view.

Split Among the Powers.

General Chaffee promptly cabled his government for instructions, with the result stated in the foregoing. It is understood here that Great Britain is the only power which will lend its aid to the German program; and that Russia and Japan will decline to participate in the expedition.

According to the cable advices from Peking this German expedition is intended to move in heavy force, probably with a view to striking terror into the heart of the empress dowager and her advisers, thus forcing the acceptance of the terms of the powers.

Will Make a Strong Protest.

Such a procedure may accord with German views as to the propriety of things, but it does not meet American views, and it is quite probable that in addition to instructing General Chaffee to withhold his aid our government will make strong representations concerning the incident to Germany and the other interested governments. This phase of the matter was discussed at the cabinet meeting this afternoon.

It is feared here that in his anxiety to perform picturesque feats in China Waldersee may precipitate actual war. There is no doubt that the Chinese court is doing all that it can to bring about peace and to terminate the negotiations and regain possession of the capital. It is going just as far in this direction as it dares to go. If it attempts to overstep a certain line there will be a revolt.

Some of the princes and generals whose heads the powers have demanded are in actual command of respectable bodies of troops. If worst comes to worst it is believed that these generals will fight. Once started the fires of conflict and there is no telling what the outcome may be.

The policy of the United States and Russia has been to crowd the Chinese government just as far as possible without raising revolt against its authority. But this is not satisfactory to the Germans, who apparently would be quite happy if, instead of settling the trouble upon some rational basis, they could stir up more insurrection, and thus find further justification for the German programme of the flaming sword.

Protest from Washington.

It is understood that representations have been made by this government protesting against Waldersee's projected expedition either to Signan Fu or through Chilli Province. The state department officials believe, and in this they doubtless represent the president, that such an armed expedition would entirely upset all advances so far made in the peace negotiations. It would moreover mean the death of hundreds or possibly of thousands of innocent men, women and children non-combatants.

Whether Generals Chaffee and Conger will be ordered to withdraw from China, provided our protests are unavailing, will be determined. Such steps the government officials say would be taken with regret.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Blondell & Fennessy presented "The Katzenjammers Kids at the Myers Grand last evening to a large and delighted audience. It was practically a vaudeville show with a little thread of a plot to hang the specialties on. There is no question about its result as a laugh producer. There were new songs and jokes and dances all meritorious and artistic. Edward Blondell ably assisted by Lizzie Arnold Blondell were the bright particular stars of the show.

The entertainment will be repeated tonight and no doubt the house will be packed. It is a show worth seeing.

What is said to be one of the funniest farces on the road this season with the odd title, "The Red Cat" comes to the Myers Grand on Thursday, Feb. 21. The author is Mark E. Swan, who wrote the clever comedy success "Brown's in Town," "Whose Bab yare you," etc. The hilarious story of his latest effort deals with the ludicrous adventures of the guests in the Red Cat Inn, a respectable country hotel. The piece abounds in amusing situations, mistakes, surprises and complications.

The Red Cat includes such well known comedians as Lew H. Newcomb, Fred G. Hearn, Roy Foster, Wallace West, Miss Franklyn Gale, Miss Dorothy Dean, Miss Alice Williams, Mark E. Swan, the author, and others.

Of all the girls that have appeared on the boards, "The Belle of New York" takes the cake. There is every kind of a girl in it—tall girls, slim girls plump girls, blonde, brunette, and Titan locks, nimble blase, ingenious and heavy girls. Half of them are so pretty and take the stage with such authority, that one is inclined to think, and expect at an moment to see each of them step down to the footlights at any moment and do a turn. Now the show that has a chorus like the Belle of New York is a perfect octopus as a drawing power. No matter how slim about the waist the story is—and that is the state of this latest Casion cocktail. It would be well to call it a Pousse Cafe, for it is certainly a safer chaser than bracer. So, if you are looking for types you will find them in the Belle of New York"—right in the chorus.

HONOR OF VISITING GUEST.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Entertained for Miss Sawyer of Evanston.

Friends to the number of twenty-five were entertained last evening by Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Holmes at their spacious Park Place home. The function was given in honor of Miss Sawyer of Evanston, Ill. Cards were played followed by the serving of refreshments. The honors were won by Mrs. John T. Wilcox and Miss Sybil Nash.

How a Little Boy Was Saved.
Washington, D. C.—"When our boy was about 16 months old he broke out with a rash which was thought to be measles. In a few days he had a swelling on the left side of his neck and it was decided to be mumps. He was given medical attendance for about three weeks when the doctor said it was scarlet fever and ordered a severe. He wanted to lance the sore, but I would not let him and continued giving him medicine for about four months when the bunch broke in two places and became a running sore. Three doctors said it was scarlet fever and each ordered a blood medicine. A neighbor told me of a case somewhat like our baby's which was cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I decided to give it to my boy and in a short while his health improved and his neck healed so nicely that I stopped giving him the medicine. The sore broke out again, however, whereupon I again gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla and its persistent use has accomplished a complete cure. I do not think there will be even a scar left. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla and recommend it everywhere I get a chance." Mrs. NETTIE CHASE, 47 K St., N. E.

Like Magic.
"A complication of troubles, dyspepsia, chronic catarrh and inflammation of the stomach, rheumatism, etc., made me miserable. Had no appetite until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acted like magic. I am thoroughly cured." N. B. SEELY, 1874 West 14th Ave., Denver, Col.

If you have failed to get relief from other remedies try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures when all others fail, because it is Peculiar to Itself.

FARMING WITH DITCH WATER ON THE PLAINS OF THE RIO GRANDE

Spirited and Interesting Description of Operations in the Far Southwest by J. C. Wilmarth—
How the Mexican Does His Work.

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 14.—The water came down the river today. Rock county farmers hardly realize what this means to the folks raising alfalfa and beans and chili along the sandy valley of the Rio Grande.

The Rock county man looks forward to a reasonable alternation of showers and sunshine all through April and May to start things moving. Down here such water as there is comes all in a bunch. For a week or ten days, perhaps, the big irrigation canal and all the little ditches run full. Alfalfa fields are flooded three inches deep.

Peach orchards are expanses of pasty mud that clings to the feet as no other mud ever clung. At sunrise barefooted Mexicans shiver as they pick their way through the ice covered puddles. Armed with hoes, heavy and awkward enough to be relics from primitive days, they work slowly across the fields. As fast as one ditch has had water enough it is closed and the next one opened. The amount of water that sun-baked El Paso sand can absorb is marvelous, but sooner or later the ground is saturated two or three feet down and the pressure of work relaxes.

From this time on there may be no water until the middle of June. Meanwhile a blazing sun will be baking the earth into brick-like hardness. The man who counts on rain once a week to keep his ground in condition finds it hard to believe that crops watered only twice in four months can come to any good end—especially when the sun makes thermometers show 120 above. The irrigation farmer takes a different view.

"Rain? Oh, yes, we get a little rain in July or August," he says, "but it's a nuisance. Rain is a poor substitute for ditch water. You can't put it where you want it; it never comes when you need it most, and it everlastingly muddies up the roads and makes our roofs leak. No, give me a canal half full of water and you can have all your rain."

The roof business is a sore point in the "adobe country". The typical ranch house in the arid region is built of mud bricks. It is one story high, with the rooms arranged around an open court or "patio". The roof of the house is almost flat. A layer of cotton-wood poles, a layer of brush, then six inches of wheat straw, and on top of all this a four inch covering of mud. Thus is the roof put together. After the mud has set an inch of dry dirt is sifted about. This dry dirt is the chief dependence, strange as it may seem. Theoretically, the rain drops roll off as they would off a red hot stove, not even changing the dust to mud. Practically, things are very different. The first shower is apt to make paste of all this carefully spread dust. Then the sun bakes great cracks in it; the next rain has easy entrance, and the family wakes up to find streams of adobe-colored gruel trickling down over everything.

This valley brags of its wheat—took the first prize at the World's Fair, in fact, for wheat rich in gluten. Rio Grande wheat is almost the same in quality as the white Italian, and is in great demand for export. Its price averages twenty-five per cent. above the Chicago market. For all that, there is but one threshing machine in the valley. Wheat is handled very much as the children of Israel did in Egypt. It is cut by hand and spread out on a patch of smooth trodden clay. Over this straw pile a bunch of ponies are driven. Round and round go the ponies, threshing out the grain with feet that strike faster than any thirty flails. When the threshing ends the grain has still to be screened. This is left for the first windy day. A forkful at a time the pile is tossed into the air. The chaff drives off before the breeze, and wheat, more or less clean, gathers in a slowly growing pile. All this takes time, but time is the cheapest thing the Mexican has on hand.

Farm work and all other common labor in this part of the country falls to the Mexican. He entirely displaces that sturdy American character, the "hired man's" $20 a month and board. The Mexican gets seventy-five cents a working day and boards himself. And he tries hard and successfully not to earn any more than he gets. He rests longer at the end of a row of chili than a Rock county farmer would at dinner time. It takes three of him to do as much work as one man would in Wisconsin, and the amount of overseeing he requires is a serious item.

Most of the so-called Mexicans along this part of the border are half breeds, uniting the blood of Mexican peon with Pueblo Indian. They come of a line that has been farming irrigated land since before Columbus, and their irrigation system today is cruder than it was five hundred years ago. Crude as their methods are, however, they show a remarkable faculty of handling water. They have white men at a disadvantage when it comes to running ditches or fixing water levels.

"They have a compass and spirit level in their heads," is the way one man explains it.

Certainly they act like it. A gang of Mexican field hands, with no surveying instruments whatever, will true up a ten-acre field so that a three-inch head of water will flood every spot in the piece. They will carry the grade of a ditch so accurately that there will not be an error of an inch in two hundred feet. And they will loaf eight hours out of a ten hour day unless they are watched with a jealous eye.

There is no driving a Mexican. He doesn't care whether he works or not, so he is beautifully superior to threats of discharge. Dock his wages or speak to him harshly and he quits at once. He can live for three cents a day, for frijole beans are cheap and filling. If any man has gathered together more beans than enough for one day he keeps open house and the neighbors live at his expense. This promotes the diffusion of property and keeps anybody in the neighborhood from being offensively rich.

The only time the Mexican shows any speed is when he takes work by the job. This is apt to be in the heart of the dull season—December or January—when the whole cross-roads settlement runs out of beans and flour. Then, and only then, will he do ditch-cleaning at a lump price, that amounts to about half of day wages, but when he does he shakes the kink out of his back so thoroughly that he earns grocery money in surprising fashion. Speaker Henderson is again in his chair in the House of Representatives after a severe attack of the grip.

Rev. C. Body was in a serious condition at his home in St. Paul, O., but Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills pulled him through all right.

To the

PEOPLE OF JANESVILLE:

A Proclamation By Mr. Smith, Pharmacist.

Whereas, the people of our city have been led to purchase so-called remedies from which they have received no benefit whatever, and having thus wasted so much hard-earned money, it has come to a pass where they knew not what to believe.

Inasmuch as this unsatisfactory state of affairs now exists, know, therefore, all persons who are in need of a medicine for any of the following ailments, that we will supply them with our new Wine of Cod Liver Oil, — Vinol, on a positive guarantee that if it does not succeed in benefiting them, we will refund the entire amount of money they have laid out on the medicine.

There is no one medicine that will cure everything, but there are some we know to be honest, reliable and of great curative value. Such is VINOL; it is not a patent or secret medicine, — everything in it is plainly printed on the label. We are familiar with every particle of it, and know that it should be a blessing to all persons who have troubles herein-after described; and unlike other medicines, it will cost absolutely nothing if it produces no benefit.

Could any offer be more fair than this? You are ill; we offer you medicine which we believe in our hearts will be a blessing to you, and if it is not we will return to you every penny you paid us. Is there anyone foolish enough not to accept this offer? If you are ill and need such a medicine you owe it to your family, to your friends, and yourself, to try this medicine which we give you our pledge is a genuine new discovery and a preparation of great merit.

Do you think we could afford to lend our name to its praises, as we have been doing in the newspapers if we did not know VINOL to be an honest and unusually valuable remedy for the ills for which it is prescribed. We certainly could not; we therefore ask you, our neighbors, friends and acquaintances to accept our assurances that this is a genuine offer, and that any and all persons who need a medicine of this character should feel a sense of security in our offer.

RUN DOWN.

If you feel all worn out, have very little appetite, and not much sleep, caused by over-work or sickness, try VINOL on our guarantee.

DEBILITY.

Why drag out an existence without life or ambition. It is not natural to feel continually tired. We guarantee VINOL will bring life, strength and vigor to the debilitated. If you do not feel well try VINOL. If it does not help you your money will be refunded.

GAIN FLESH.

If you need to we believe you can do so without taking disagreeable Cod Liver Oil. Fat taken into the system does not create fat. We believe VINOL will create flesh quicker than any preparation containing grease. Try it on our guarantee.

DYSPEPSIA.

Only those who actually suffer know its terrors, for them life is robbed of all joy. It produces many serious complications and enfeebls the entire system. Relief only comes when a scientific remedy enables the stomach to properly assimilate food. There is no medicine that will do this so successfully as VINOL. Try it on our guarantee.

OLD PEOPLE

need a strengthening and invigorating re-builder. VINOL is of exceptional value in such cases. We guarantee it to give strength and health to the weak and debilitated, either from disease or old age. Try it on our guarantee.

PALE WOMEN

and children need a tonic-reconstructor that will create flesh and make pure red blood. Pale, haggard faces show that the blood is poor and thin, and also indicates imperfect digestion. VINOL will correct such troubles as sure as the sun shines. Try it on our guarantee. Children love VINOL it is so delicious.

BRONCHITIS

often ends fatally unless specially cared for in its early stages. There is nothing in medicine more valuable for restoring health to the throat and lungs than VINOL, Wine of Cod Liver Oil. Try it on our guarantee.

CONSUMPTION.

Do you fear consumption? Have you tendencies that make you dread this terrible disease? Our new Wine of Cod Liver Oil—VINOL, will surely cure consumption if taken at a reasonably early stage. Try it on our guarantee.

NERVOUSNESS.

Diseased nerves are due to over-work, insufficient nourishment or slow breaking down of general health. We guarantee VINOL, Wine of Cod Liver Oil to permanently and effectually cure nerve affections; it actually rebuilds the entire body. Try it on our guarantee.

HACKING COUGH.

A sure sign of danger ahead. One might as well commit suicide as to let it go unchecked. VINOL is the very medicine needed. Unlike other Cod Liver Oil preparations, it does not upset the stomach, and it is delicious to the taste. Try it on our guarantee.

NURSING MOTHERS.

If women with nursing babies who have difficulty in keeping up their health and strength would take VINOL, we know positively that the best results would be obtained. Try it on our guarantee. You know the life and future development of the child depends upon proper nourishment.

TRY ON OUR GUARANTEE,

Vinol
WINE OF COD-LIVER-OIL

When the Blood is Poor
When More Flesh is Needed
When the Weak Need Strength or
The Throat and Lungs Repairing

We stake our reputation on this offer being genuine. You will absolutely be under no obligation to us whatever, if after you have given VINOL a fair trial for any of the above ailments and have not received any benefit; you have only to tell us so, and we will return the entire amount of money you have paid us.

You see our faith in VINOL, and you must admit that we know something about medicine; therefore, when we tell you that VINOL is the most valuable preparation of Cod Liver Oil we have ever known, and a wonderful tonic-reconstructor and re-builder of strength, appetite and health, at the same time delicious to taste, we are not unreasonable to expect you to believe us.

RETALIATION.

The ruling recently made by Secretary Gage, discriminating against Russian sugar, was an unfortunate ruling and should be set aside at the earliest possible moment. Russia has been sending to this country, duty free, or practically so, a small amount of beet sugar, amounting last year to less than half a million dollars, and interfering in no way with the home industry.

In return, and in recognition of reciprocal relations, our government has been permitted to send to Russia, manufactured goods, in the line of farm implements and farm machinery, duty free or so near so that the duty has never been a bar, as a result American manufacturers in these lines shipped to Russia in 1900, $10,000,000 of their products.

The bulk of these goods were manufactured in Chicago and vicinity, and the Russian trade was established at the expense of heavy advertising, and the liberal expenditure of money.

Russia proposes to retaliate, the most natural thing to do, and serves notice to this government that an increase of 30 per cent. will be added to the duty on American products of this class.

This is a prohibitive tariff and American manufacturers are paralyzed. Protests are being sent to congress against the ruling, and no efforts will be spared to have it rescinded.

Secretary Gage is a great banker, and has made a competent treasurer, but he falls far short of being a statesman. Any man, in high official position, who through ignorance or carelessness, makes a ruling that disturbs the friendly reciprocal relations, between this country and Russia, or any other nation, lacks in a large degree the ability to grasp one of the most important questions, pertaining, not only to national life, but to the welfare of the whole government.

The time will come, and is not far distant, if wise and intelligent statesmanship governs, when the discussion of free trade and the tariff, will be lost in the adoption of reciprocity, wherever it is practicable.

When that time comes, the hopes and predictions of that great statesman, James G. Blaine, will be realized, and America will lead the van, as the great producing nation of the world.

Men like Secretary Gage should never be permitted to block the wheels of progress, and that is what his pernicious ruling on Russia amounts to. It is time to call a halt on that kind of statesmanship.

SUBSIDY AND OLEOMARGARINE.

The ship subsidy bill is practically defeated, and the chief mourners are a few ship builders, a few promoters, and a small contingency of citizens, whose pride has been injured by the neglect of congress to provide for the American merchant marine.

The rank and file of humanity are more than satisfied with the defeat of the measure, and the republican party has been saved from its own folly.

Another bill that should be slated for indefinite postponement is the Groat Oleomargarine bill. Not because it is of the same character in all respects as the subsidy bill, but because it smacks strongly of class legislation, and this is always against the masses.

The Gazette has been censured by some of its dairy friends for not supporting the bill. The argument is used that people have a right to know what they are eating, and that colored "oleo" is so deceptive that hotel patrons are liable to get full on it, supposing that they are eating creamery butter. That is something of an argument and it may be necessary to require hotels to put up placards in their dining rooms stating "The best 'oleo' on tap today," or "We do not use 'oleo' in any form." That would be a sufficient safeguard and would satisfy the most critical epicure.

But the great mass of people who are obliged to eat "oleo" are not hotel patrons. They are the poorer classes who buy it of their grocers, knowing that it is simply a substitute for butter, the same as they are compelled to buy a great many other cheap goods as substitutes for better articles.

There is nothing unwholesome or injurious about the food and there is no chance for an argument on health. If the product can be made more inviting by the use of a little harmless color, it should be permitted, the same as it is to help out a poor quality of butter.

The only honest argument in favor of this bill is a selfish argument, in the interest of a limited class as compared with the masses. There are 45,000 consumers in Rock county, and less than ten per cent. of them are interested in the manufacture of dairy products. Taking the country at large, there are less than five per cent. that are clamoring for the passage of this measure.

The masses—the ninety-five per cent—are financially interested in seeing the bill defeated.

If congress will get down to where the people live, the bill will share the same fate as the ship subsidy bill, and the people will be satisfied.

AN EXTRA SESSION.

The Cuban constitution is practically ready to submit to congress, but the questions involved are too important for hasty action, and nothing is likely to be done at the present session. It is doubtful if Cuba will patiently wait until next December, and an extra session of congress seems inevitable.

There are other important questions, relating to Porto Rico and the Philippines, to be considered, and President McKinley very naturally feels that congress should share the responsibility with him.

Senator Spooner's bill will help to simplify matters in the distant islands, but the country is in an unsettled condition, and it is making history too rapidly this year, to admit of any neglect.

The president will not be criticised for calling an extra session.

CONGRESSIONAL EXTRAVAGANCE

It is so easy to spend other people's money, and there is so much of it in sight just now to spend, that congress is liable to be extremely reckless. The legitimate expenses of government are naturally very heavy, and there is no occasion of adding to them a lot of unnecessary expenditures.

The River and Harbor bill carries an appropriation of about $65,000,000, and includes all sorts of pet schemes in various localities.

Some enterprising member wanted to introduce a bill the other day, providing for the mapping of the soils of the country, and requiring an outlay of about $100,000,000.

The public crib is a good large crib, but there ought to be a limit to the demands made upon it. We are liable to strike a drought some year, and be compelled to fall back on a crop of bonds. They are easy enough to raise, but the harvest is never satisfactory. It pays to "go slow and learn to peddle."

Ask McKinley to Visit Them.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Rock Island and Moline, Ill., and Davenport, Iowa, want President McKinley to pay them a visit on his trip west. The three cities have united in an invitation to Mr. McKinley, the especial desire of their citizens being that he visit the arsenal at Rock Island in which the cities have a sort of joint interest and pride. Representative Lane of Iowa presented the invitation to the chief executive, and Mr. McKinley replied: "I will take the invitation under consideration, but I cannot make any promises. I may have to invite you all back here."

Attempted Assassination.

Logansport, Ind., Feb. 19.—A bold attempt was made here by an unknown man to assassinate Carl F. Becker, a prominent young citizen, as he was seated in his home. The bullet narrowly missed his head. Last night, when young Becker was about to enter his home, he was attacked, but succeeded after a desperate encounter in escaping into the house. A policeman saw the flash of the gun last night and chased the would-be assassin several blocks.

Says Tesla Is Wrong.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Thomas Prime, F. T. S., of London, says that interplanetary communication by means of powerful electric rays as proposed by Tesla is impossible. In a lecture in the Universalist church in Kimbark avenue, he said all investigation in occult science had gone to prove that the present inhabitants of Mars are of a lower order than the people of the earth.

Bunker Hill Monument's Lights.

Bunker hill monument at Charlestown, Mass., is to have an encircling row of electric lights near its top at night, if anybody can be found willing to pay the cost, estimated at $1,200 a year. The Monument association refuses to pay the bill, and some of its members, while they will not oppose the project, are of the opinion that the garish lights would cheapen the historic pile.

Congressman Receives Chessmen.

Congressman Taylor, who represents President McKinley's old Ohio district, received from the Philippines the other day a magnificent set of chessmen. Each piece is elaborately and artistically carved, the kings and queens being six inches high. The set is of Chinese manufacture, and is a present from an army officer now on duty in the islands. Chess enthusiasts declare the set is of the class used only by imperial persons in China.

REGULAR SESSION
COMMON COUNCILVery Little Business of Importance
Was Transacted at the Meeting Held Last Night.

Very little business of importance was transacted at the regular meeting of the common council last evening. Mayor Richardson presided and Alderman Hutchinson, Judd, McLean, Murray, Rice, Gilkey and Kothman were present.

A petition signed by the property owners on Ravine street asking for a permit to build a sewer from the westerly side of Pearl street down Ravine street to the river was referred to the highway committee who asked for further time which was granted.

The regular batch of bills were presented and allowed. The bill of David Jeffris for dirt used in the filling in Jackson street bridge was held for further consideration by the highway committee.

The mayor was instructed to borrow $1500 which was to be placed to the credit of the fire and water fund.

Alderman Rice presented an order that the city engineer prepare a grade for that part of South Third street from the east side of South Main street to the westerly side of Jackson street; for South Second from the south side of Wisconsin street to the west side of East street; Pleasant street from the east side of High street to the west side of Linn; Academy street from the south side of West Milwaukee to the north side of Pleasant; Franklin street from the south side of Dodge street to the north side of Pleasant street. It was carried.

The claim of Rose Hong was compromised by the city paying her the sum of $125. There being no further business the council adjourned and were presented with tickets to the Concordia masquerade with the compliments of the society.

MILWAUKEE STREET
IN POOR CONDITION

Milwaukee street from the corner of Main street to the First National bank corner, is in the worst shape that it has been in years. Hardly a day passes by that several tip overs do not result from the condition the street is in. Some work should be done at once by the street commissioner to put the street in shape so that people can drive along without taking a chance of having a tipover or a serious runaway. Such a condition of affairs would not be allowed in any city outside of Janesville. The snow is piled up on each side of the car track, leaving ruts eighteen inches deep in which a cutter runner drops unexpectantly, and an accident is the result. There is no doubt but that the city would be liable for heavy damages for allowing such conditions to exist in case any one is injured as a result of them.

To Hold an Indoor Meet.

On Thursday evening the Janesville High school athletic society will hold an indoor meet at the gymnasium, beginning at 8 o'clock. There are many events to be contested and a good evening's sport is promised. Frank Kent is manager of the track team and Claude Holloway is captain. In the events of Thursday evening, Charles Carr will be judge of wrestling, Charles Carr, P. Casford and Prof. Dudley will be judges of finishes and Wm. Fox will be starter.

Christ Church.

Tomorrow, Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, services will be held in Christ church as follows: Morning prayer, litany, penitential office, address and Holy Communion, 10 a. m.; evening prayer, penitential office and sermon, 7:15 p. m. There will also be service and address on Thursday at 4:30 p. m. and Friday at 7:15 p. m.

Lent in Catholic Churches.

At 9 a. m. tomorrow there will be a blessing and distribution of ashes at St. Mary's church, and during Lent there will be regular evening services on Wednesday and Friday evenings at 7:30. At St. Patrick's church tomorrow morning there will be a similar service at the same hour.

Gov. Dockery's Knowing Wink.

The wink which contributed in no small degree to the fame of Cliss Loftus was a poor affair compared to that sometimes perpetrated by Gov. Dockery, the new Missouri executive. He draws down the left eyelid in the most knowing way imaginable, expressing anything from flat refusal to positive acquiescence. The place hunter never knows which interpretation to choose.

Fossil Exhibit for Buffalo.

The Buffalo Society of Natural Sciences, it is understood, will co-operate with the New York State Museum in making an exhibit at the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo. The exhibit will be held in the New York State building, and will include a remarkably fine collection of the water line rocks near Buffalo, which consist of the fossil crustaceans, Pterygotus, Eurypterus and Ceratocani.

Bloody Record at Windber.

In the mining town of Windber, Pa., there were forty fights and two murders on New Year's day. The town has a record of 18 murders in seven months. This beats Kentucky.

RESPONDED TO THE FINAL SUMMONS

F. S. ELDERED, PIONEER RESIDENT, DIED THIS MORNING.

Here Since 1855 and a Factor in the Business Life of the Community—Helped Organize Janesville Cotton Manufacturing Co.—Incorporator of First Nat'l Bank—His Life Work.

Frederick S. Eldred, one of the old residents of the city, died at 3:30 this morning at his home, 202 S. Jackson street. The immediate cause of his death was acute stomach trouble from which he had been a sufferer for a number of years. The final attack seized him a week ago Sunday and was accompanied by intense pain from which death was a welcome relief.

Deceased was born at Winfield, Herkimer county, N. Y., April 27, 1821 and would have been eighty years old at his next birthday. He was educated in the schools of his native county and remained with his parents on the farm until 1842 when he came to Wisconsin.

In 1855 he came to Janesville and has been a factor in the business life of the community since that date. For the first two years he was engaged in the lumber business and for the next twenty in the wholesale and retail grocery trade.

He was one of the organizers of the Janesville Cotton Manufacturing Co., and was director and treasurer of it and its successor, the Janesville Cotton Mills, for a number of years. He was the company's purchasing agent and was often made personally responsible for the company's liabilities, sometimes at a great risk of his own resources.

So great was the confidence he inspired that he was made the executor of several estates and accepted nothing for his services. In 1865-66 he was alderman of the Fourth ward and in 1870 was elected supervisor for two years. He was one of the incorporators of the First National bank and was its first vice-president. He was an ardent supporter of the temperance cause and was in close sympathy with every movement toward moral advancement during his long residence in the city.

Mr. Eldred was twice married. In 1843 to Miss Sarah Wetmore of Winfield, who died in 1886 and in 1888 to Mrs. Fannie E. Hoyt of Grand Rapids, Mich., who survives him. In his disposition he was singularly genial and gentle and during his last illness displayed a clearness of mind and fortitude in the face of keen suffering that is as admirable as it is rare.

The funeral will be conducted from the house at 2 p. m. Thursday, Rev. R. C. Denison, officiating.

Mrs. M. B. S. Hanson.

Mrs. Margaret Buchanan Selkirk Hanson, beloved wife of Thornevald Hanson passed away at her home, 113 Terrace street at 12:30 o'clock today, after a lingering illness with inflammation of the bowels. Mrs. Hanson by her many womanly qualities and kind disposition had gathered about her a large circle of intimate friends who will be grieved to hear of her death.

She was born near Glasgow, Scotland and was married to Thornevald Hanson in Janesville and is survived by him. She also leaves an infant child but four weeks old and a mother in Glasgow, Scotland. She has three brothers, Alexander, David and James Selkirk and two sisters, Mrs. Barbara Smith of Madison and Mrs. Bell of Glasgow.

Mrs. Hanson was thirty four years of age last December and came to this country in 1892. For several years she worked in the store for J. M. Bostwick where she became a great favorite. She was married to Mr. Hanson three years ago last June. The funeral services will be held from the Presbyterian church on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The interment will be at Oak Hill cemetery.

Frank Mooney.

Frank Mooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Mooney died this morning at his home on Racine street.

His death was the result of typhoid pneumonia which attacked him early in January. This came after a long period of ill health and so sapped his vitality that he was unable to rally from the attack. The greater part of his life was spent in this city but of late he has been employed at Madison from which city he returned to his old home only a few weeks ago.

At the outbreak of the Spanish American war he entered with Co. A, but was unable to pass the physical examination at Milwaukee and was returned home. He was of a quiet and pleasant disposition and made many friends wherever he went who will learn with sorrow of his untimely death.

In addition to his parents he is survived by one brother, John Mooney, and two sisters, Anna and Mrs. Edw. Sheridan of La Prairie.

Patrick Dooley Dead.

John Dooley residing on Locust street received a telegram this morning announcing the death of his brother Patrick Dooley at Monticello, Wis., this morning after a short illness. Mr. Dooley was well known in this city. The funeral will be held on Thursday morning at Albany, Wis.

BIOLOGICAL VIEW OF DEVELOPMENT

Light Thrown on the Early Training of Children—Psychic faculties Develop slower than Motor.

At the session of the Social Science club held last evening education was viewed from the standpoint of biology. From the standpoint of the hydra, a low type of organism with two layers of cells, the digestive and the sensitive, the development was carried on up to the highest form and shown to be simply modifications of the same cells.

Education which was defined as a series of changes takes place to a small degree among the bony cells, to a much greater extent among the muscular and to a great degree among the sensitive cells which also retain their plasticity long after the others become fixed and incapable of modifications.

Biological investigation teaches that the child is born with the full number of nerve cells, three billions and the succeeding changes are in the development of the individual cells. The development of the motor nerves is first as seen in the earliest movements of a young child which are from the shoulders, and hip joints rather than those of the toes and fingers.

This fact indicates the proper direction of early training in the kindergarten grades where full arm movements rather than hand or finger movements should be first taught. It also shows that as the psychic faculties are slower in their development than the motor the brain of a child should be taxed for only very short periods.

The maximum of motor development is reached at from thirty to thirty-five years. The capacity remains at a stand still for two years, and then deterioration sets in each year showing a slight falling off in product. On the other hand, among the most highly cultivated the psychic development attains its highest point at fifty-three years and remains unchanged with sixty-five.

The investigation of Donaldson in this country and of the Ferman specialists in neurology were given in detail with much uniformity.

The next lesson will be held Wednesday evening of next week and will consider education as a social factor.

QUIET MARRIAGE AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH

Herbert Daly and Mary Callahan joined in the Indissoluble Bonds This Morning.

Herbert Daly and Mary Josephine Callahan were married at eight o'clock this morning at St. Mary's church, Rev. W. A. Goebel officiating. The bridal pair was attended by Frank Croft and Lizzie Callahan, the latter a sister of the bride.

The groom is the adopted son of Patrick Daly and is well known in the city. The bride was raised in Janesville or an extended period, although her home was originally in Illinois. Mr. and Mrs. Daly will make their home in Janesville.

PERMANENT ATTRACTION.

Kirk White's Former Canine Now Advertising the Katzenjammer Show.

One of the star attractions of the Katzenjammer Kids' Company show is the black and white dog "Kid," which follows Mr. Fennessey about and advertises the show. This he does in two ways—one in the blanket he wears and the other in the sign he carries in his mouth.

The sign has a modern brace, and Kid never lets go of it except to eat and fight. When he is occupied with the last-named function he deposits the sign in a safe place, thrashes the other dog and goes back to business.

He is a Janesville product, having been brought up in the company of Kirk White. Mr. Fennessey says he wonders he did not chew out every dog in town. His warlike proclivities are his one bad trait. He has an eye like a hawk, and anything that escapes him needs to be microscopic.

MAD DASH OF A RUNAWAY HORSE

Made Things Lively on Milwaukee Street Last Evening—Wrecked Two Store Fronts.

A horse belonging to L. K. Crissey who travels for Sprague, Warner & Co., made things lively on Milwaukee street last evening. He managed to wreck two store fronts and a cutter and harness before he was checked in his wild career.

Crissey left the horse in charge of a boy in front of the peoples drug store a car came along and frightened the animal who dashed across the street towards the Hayes block here striking the slippery cement sidewalk. He slipped and went head first through one of the plate glass windows in the front store. He succeeded in freeing himself from the cutter at this time and ran across the bridge on West Milwaukee street where he took to the sidewalk and ran as far as the Corn Exchange square.

Here Officer Ed Smith tried to stop him and turned him towards the north. He acted as if he was crazed by his hurts received by breaking the glass across the river and when in front of Frank Baldwin's harness shop ran his head through the glass door. Officer Smith and an assistant tried to get him loose, but in his struggles he went through the door and into the store where after turning things over generally he fell down covered with cuts and bruises. He was raised up and led to Cole MacLean's livery barn where Dr. Brown was called to attend him and found him badly cut up.

Baldwin's harness shop was a fright, the harness, blankets and all other goods in the immediate vicinity of where the horse fell were knocked down and splattered with blood and badly damaged.

It was certainly a wicked runaway and several hundred dollars, damage was done before the horse was caught.

The second prize was awarded to Miss Nevo Rose, dressed as Night. Claude Baxter won the gents' first prize, and James Manning the second.

SENATE APPLIES THE KNIFE.

A Big Slash in the River and Harbor Bill.

REDUCED SOME $17,000,000.

Itemized Statement of the Principal Appropriations for Improvements in the Northwest—St. Louis Fair Bill Passes House—Other Measures.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—The commerce committee of the senate took heroic action upon the river and harbor appropriation bill, making 25 per cent reductions in all cash appropriations over $50,000 and 33-1-3 per cent reductions in continuous contracts calling for more than $30,000. This had the effect of reducing the total of the bill from about $67,000,000 to $50,000,000. The committee also decided against placing an amendment upon the bill carrying the Nicaragua canal project. Senator Morgan, in charge of the isthmian canal, offered such an amendment, but, owing to the necessity which compelled the sharp cut made by the committee, it was impossible to approve it. It is reported that at the conference at the White House the president intimated that he would veto the river and harbor bill if it came to him carrying excessive appropriations.

Amounts in the New Bill.

As the river and harbor bill will be presented to the senate the principal items of direct appropriations in the northwest will stand as follows:

Waukegan harbor, Illinois.....	$75,000
Holland harbor, Michigan.....	$5,000
Grand Marais harbor of refuge, Michigan.....	52,500
Milwaukee harbor of refuge, Wisconsin.....	98,250
Burlington bay, Minnesota.....	150,000
Detroit river, Michigan.....	375,000
St. Clair Platts, canal, Michigan	257,500
Middle and West Neebish channels, Michigan.....	375,000
Calumet river, Illinois and Indiana.....	56,250
Illinois river, Illinois.....	56,250
Rock river, Illinois.....	150,000
Mississippi river, mouth of the Ohio to St. Paul.....	1,012,500
Mississippi river, head of the passes to the Ohio.....	1,875,000
Storage reservoirs, Sioux river, South Dakota.....	52,500
Missouri river, at and above Sioux City, Iowa.....	112,500
Missouri river, below Sioux City.....	262,500

Three hundred thousand dollars is provided for surveys and examinations of rivers and harbors not provided for in the bill.

Postoffice Appropriation Bill.

Nearly the whole session of the senate was devoted to consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill. So far as committee amendments to the measure are concerned the bill practically was completed, although the amendment appropriating $500,000 for an extension of the pneumatic tube service remains undisposed of.

"Conspiracy" Bill Defeated.

Mr. Littlefield (Me.) moved to pass under suspension of the rules the bill to define the meaning of the word "conspiracy" and to regulate the use of restraining orders, as proposed to be amended by the committee. Mr. Littlefield said the bill was designed to exempt labor unions from the operation of the conspiracy clause of the Sherman, anti-trust act, but confined the exceptions within certain limitations by the operation of the amendments. Mr. Fleming (Ga.) said that within ten minutes Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation of Labor, had stated he would prefer that the bill should be defeated rather than passed with the amendments. The bill was defeated, 56 to 145.

Sundry Civil Bill.

The sundry civil bill was under consideration in the house late in the day, and Mr. Cannon, chairman of the appropriations committee, took occasion to make a detailed statement of the appropriations for the present congress. He was led to do this, he said, by many criticisms of the reckless extravagance of this congress.

Exposition Bill Passed.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—The house passed the bill appropriating $5,000,000 for the St. Louis exposition by a vote of 191 to 41. Messrs Mann and Boutell of Chicago voted for the bill. Messrs. Cusack, Foster, Noonan and Lorimer were absent. Nearly all the congressmen of Illinois outside of Cook county voted for the bill. Congressman Cannon announced that in general he was opposed to the appropriation of vast sums of money for such purposes, but he said he favored the bill. The government by the action of last spring had entered into a contract to appropriate $5,000,000 if the citizens of Missouri raised $10,000,000, and he would not vote to repudiate that contract.

BILL TO ADVANCE SAMPSON.

Senate Measure and Resolution of Thanks Go Together.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—Senator Hale, chairman of the senate committee on naval affairs, has introduced a bill for the revival of the grade of vice-admiral in the navy, and authorizing the president to appoint two rear admirals to that office. The bill is in the interest of Admirals Sampson and Schley and is intended to aid in solving the problem of their promotion as well as the promotion of other officers who served with them in the Spanish war.

Senator Hale also introduced the following joint resolution of thanks to Admiral Sampson in accordance with the president's recent recommendation:

"That in accordance with the provisions of section 1508 of the revised statutes the thanks of the congress and of the American people are hereby tendered to Rear Admiral William T. Sampson, United States Navy and commander-in-chief of the United States naval force on the North Atlantic station during the late war with Spain, and to the officers and men under his command, for highly distinguished conduct in conflict with the enemy and in carrying on the blockade and naval campaigns on the Cuban coast resulting in the destruction of the Spanish fleet at Santiago de Cuba, July 3, 1898.

"Sec. 2. That the president of the United States be requested to cause this resolution to be promulgated and to communicate the same to Rear Admiral Sampson and to the officers and men of his late command."

Both measures were prepared at the navy department.

DOINGS OF THE LAW MAKERS.

ILLINOIS.

Monday, February 18.

The only business of any importance done in either house of the general assembly was the introduction of a report from the Illinois practice commission, which was appointed under a resolution by the last legislature. With the report were thirty-five bills to carry into effect the recommendations made by the commission. Among the bills are several designed to correct some of the evils of justice-shop practices of Cook county.

Illinois will have a whipping post a la Delaware if the lobby talk is crystallized into bills. It is said here that Kit Gould of Chicago is preparing a bill to punish wife-beaters and wife-deserters with the lash. Mr. Gould is not here tonight, but a week ago he was looking up the Delaware law, and the recent publication of the report of Chicago's Bureau of Associated Charities, which recommends the whipping post for wife-deserters, it is said, has induced Mr. Gould to draft a whipping-post bill. Speaker Sherman is whetting his tomahawk preparatory to taking the warpath against the men who are blocking the progress of congressional and senatorial appointments. He called in the individual members of the committee and told them they must get down to business at once or he would make trouble.

INDIANA.

Monday, February 18.

The return of the cities and towns committee of the house of the Indiana general assembly from a visit to East Chicago to inspect the proposed waterway from that city to the Calumet river has led to renewed hope among the legislators who are pushing the Calumet ship-canal bill. The indications are that the bill will receive a favorable report from the house committee, and that it will pass both houses and become a law. The members of the house who made the trip to East Chicago express themselves favorably to the bill. It has already passed the senate.

The senate passed the game law. Senator Lindley's bill makes it lawful to hunt in swamp and overflow lands without the consent of the owner, when such lands are uncultivated, but the hunter may not hunt within forty rods of cultivated lands.

MICHIGAN.

Monday, February 18.

One of the most important bills of the present legislative session was introduced by Representative Hardy of Lansing. The bill is yet in skeleton form, but it will provide for the regulation of freight rates in this state by a commission, the members of which will be elected by the people instead of being appointive officers like the state tax commission.

The bill will provide for a classification for railroads according to the earnings, and as some of the best lawyers in the state are engaged in its construction, it will be an iron-clad measure. Intended to fully accomplish the object expressed in its title.

A number of prominent tax reformers have had the measure under consideration, and it is contended that with proper regulation of freight rates there will be no necessity of further tinkering with the question of railroad taxation.

Stenographer Becomes Senator.

Senator Chandler was a stenographer when he was a young man and used to write letters for Gen. Butler. He is only stenographer in the senate, and still keeps his memoranda in shorthand notes. Representative Hitt of Illinois does the same. He was one of the first stenographers in Illinois, and took the memorable debate between Lincoln and Douglas.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. E. P. Green has recovered from an attack of the grip at Canasraga, N. Y., by the use of Dr. Miles' Pain Pills.

Among the victims of the grip epidemic now so prevalent, F. Coyle is recovering at Canton, O., by the use of Dr. Miles' Nervine and Pills.

W. E. Nibbels, of St. Louis, Mo., who was down with grip, is reported much improved. He used Dr. Miles' Nervine and Pills.

The friends of Mrs. L. Denison will be pleased to learn of her recovery from grip, at her home in Bay City, Mich., through the use of Dr. Miles' Nervine and Pills.

Everybody says that J. W. Udy is looking splendid since his recovery from the grip at his home in Des Moines, Iowa. They all know that Dr. Miles' Nervine was what cured him.

At nearly three score and ten Mrs. Galen Humphrey was fighting against odds when the grip attacked her, but she took Dr. Miles' Nervine, and now her neighbors at Wareham, Mass., remark on how well she is looking.

Prosecuting Attorney Charles L. De Waele, who has passed the three-score mile stone, had a time with the grip; but when seen at his home in Roscommon, Mich., the other day, he said Dr. Miles' Nervine was what cured him.

After an illness of five weeks from the grip, Mrs. Harriet Jackson is again about and looking fine. She began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine after the fourth week. Her home is in Bowling Green, Mo.

If I had Grip I would use Dr. Miles' Pain Pills and Dr. Miles' Nervine. Sold at All Druggists.

"If I could only get my Strength Back!"

"O, if my mother were only alive." How frequently young mothers use this expression! All through her life she has known a mother's watchful care.

She is now a mother herself and gains in strength but slowly.

She would give worlds to do everything for her precious babe, but cannot.

That tiny babe has unfolded in the young mother's heart new emotions; she has a living responsibility, and requires strength to enable her to perform a loving duty. At such a time too much care cannot be taken, and the greatest assistant that nature can have is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The birth of the first child is an especially trying experience and nature needs all the help it can get. A happy, healthy young mother is a delight to herself and all who know her, and Mrs. Pinkham's medicine will build her up as nothing else can.

Read Mrs. Johnson's Letter for Proof.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For some time I have thought of writing to you to let you know of the great benefit I have received from the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Soon after the birth of my first child I commenced to have trouble. Every month I grew worse, and at last became so bad that I found I was gradually losing my mind. The doctors treated me for female troubles, but I got no better. One doctor told me that I would be insane. I was advised by a friend to give your medicine a trial, and before I had taken all of the first bottle my neighbors noticed the change in me. I have now taken five bottles and cannot find words sufficient to praise it. I advise any woman who is suffering from any female weakness to give it a fair trial. I thank you for your good medicine."—MRS. GERTRUDE M. JOHNSON, 503 E. Walnut St., Hillboro, Tex.

Straight-Jacket Abandoned.

New York, Feb. 19.—Use of the straight-jacket has been abandoned in Bellevue Hospital. This applies to both the alcoholic ward and the insane pavilion. The exit of the jacket was hastened by the presentation of the grand jury, which said:

"We find that for many years mechanical restraints, in the nature of restraining belts, strait-jackets, hand cuffs, ankle cuffs and other like means have been commonly used in the Bellevue insane pavilion, whereas their use has long ago been abandoned at the Manhattan state hospital, Bloomingdale, Matteawan and most of the prominent institutions of the state."

May Reach Bodily.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 19.—A special to the Associated Press from the Union mines says:

"After the arrival of Premier Dunsmuir and party, shaft No. 5, which connects with No. 6, was opened and a big fan was started to drive a volume of air down and force back the gas and after-damp from No. 6. Manager Little, Inspector of Mines McGregor, Thomas Russell and a number of other mining engineers went down and were below about two hours. They reported on coming up that they had proceeded some 800 or 900 feet, and that they had met a body of gas. They were pleased with the progress made and some believe that they will be able to get through to No. 6 and take out the bodies tonight."

Double Crime in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 19.—Charles F. Bent, 23 years old, shot and mortally wounded his wife at 3421 LaCade avenue at an early hour today, and then kneeling before a mirror put a bullet through his own head, dying instantly. The couple had not been living together for late, and it is thought the killing was the result of a quarrel growing out of jealousy. Mrs. Bent died a few moments after reaching the city hospital, whether she had been taken.

May Return to Tutuila.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The regular term of service of Commander Benjamin F. Tilley, commandant of the naval station at Tutuila, Samoa, will soon expire and he will come home on leave of absence. It is probable that the navy department, however, will give him an additional assignment to the command of the station, as he is willing to return there, and his administration of affairs has given much satisfaction to the natives of the island under his charge.

Report on Batu Fire.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 19.—In the official report of the fire which broke out Feb. 5 in the magazine of the Caspian and Black Sea company at Batu and which spread to other depots, it is admitted that 127 fatalities resulted from the conflagration, and that in addition a number of persons are expected to

Recently there have been several cases of prominent men suddenly falling in collapse just after eating a hearty meal. These men have all been under treatment for gastric "trouble," and yet the result shows that the treatment they had received had smothered the symptoms but had not retarded the progress of the disease.

There is a real danger in the use of palliatives when there is disease of the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition. The disease in such cases goes on, while the distressing symptoms alone are stopped. Presently, like a smothered fire, the disease breaks out in new places, involving heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, etc., or some other organ.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery results in a radical cure of diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures diseases of heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, etc., when the disease of these organs has its origin in the diseased condition of the stomach and digestive and nutritive system.

"I will tell you what myself and family think of your medicine," writes Mr. M. Wardwell, of Shawnee, Leavenworth Co., Kansas. "It will do all you say, and more. I was taken sick nine years ago; I got so weak I couldn't lie down, nor hardly sit up; that was way two or three months. I picked up one of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the house that was got for my mother. You recommend it for stomach, so I went to taking it. The one bottle nearly cured me. I got two bottles next time and took one and one-half and was well. Your medicine cost me three dollars and the doctor cost me fourteen dollars."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 19.—A failure for $1,400,000 or over, with assets to the amount of a $10 bill, was shown by the voluntary petition in bankruptcy filed by George A. Eager, a railroad builder of Newton, Mass. The actual figures of liabilities are $1,407,341.

One Dead, Two Badly Injured.

Great Falls, Mont., Feb. 19.—One man is dead, a woman is dying and a policeman is seriously wounded as a result of a shooting which took place here. Rudolph Smith, a railroad laborer, entered a restaurant and met Marie Bell, whom he shot. Policeman Hogan appeared on the scene, and the would-be murderer opened fire on the officer. He fired two shots, both of which took effect, one in the leg and the other just above the hip. Hogan dropped on his knees and opened fire, sending five bullets into Smith's body, killing him instantly. Policeman Hogan will likely recover, but the woman is fatally wounded.

Famous Policeman Passes Away.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Officer "Steve" Rowan, bodyguard for Mayor Harrison, is dead. "Big Steve" has been a member of the Chicago police force twenty-seven years and was known as one of the best-natured policemen who ever twirled a baton. It was a standing joke in the department and a fact that he had not made an arrest in twenty years. In explanation of this fact he argued that he was not there to make arrests, but "to keep the peace."

Farmer Found Murdered.

Freeport, Ill., Feb. 19.—Woods Workinger, a young man who lived alone on a farm in McConnell township, was found murdered near the scene of the murder of John Bobb and his wife last August. Workinger was an alleged hypnotist. Roy Powell, 17 years old, a companion of Workinger, is under arrest charged with the crime. It is probable that the murder was committed several days ago.

THE MAKING OF A MAN.

The Food the Healthy Boy Craves and Ought to Have.

Recent cases have come to my knowledge of boys just entering manhood who have failed in health. "The body has grown tall and slender, but not filled out," the fond mother has said, "and yet we have been so careful of his eating." As if to prevent a hearty growing boy from eating as much as he wanted was the sure way to perfect health!

When some member of the family, noticeably the mother, has suffered from dyspepsia, and is under the advice of a specialist for this particular disorder, her condition ought not to be allowed to disturb the appetites of the other members of the family. As she sits at the table with scant relish for food, and sees her hungry 13-year-old son stow away enough for three ordinary persons, according to her estimate, she sighs audibly and suggests that "one helping ought to be enough." The little comprehends the needs of the growing muscles and bony structure and vital organs. All are crying out for more fuel, and with the boy's hearty exercise and vigorous growth comes this imperious demand for the right sort of food and plenty of it.

Plain, wholesome food, such as meat, eggs, milk, cereals and legumes, cooked well, ought, with the boy who has plenty of exercise, to produce a man who can endure the strain of life without breaking down at its very threshold. The trouble sometimes begins in the unwise effort of the female portion of the family to economize in the table fare. "Meat is expensive; therefore we will find its substitute."

Instead of the life giving steak fruit is given the place of honor at the breakfast table. Hungry boys are set down to a meal of uncooked fruit—an orange, it may be—and a dish of oatmeal and then sent off to school or to work on this indigestible combination. The orange is good enough at the right time and place, and so is the thoroughly cooked oatmeal, but as substitutes for a broiled steak in a winter morning they are a complete failure.

All the morning long at his work the young fellow has this indigestible gnawing. He cannot tell whence it comes, but it is there, and he only knows it remains there until it is relieved by a supply of food. If noon brings him a sandwich and a piece of pie, he must still wait until a 6 o'clock dinner, when the exhausted system has begun to draw on itself. No amount eaten at that hour can make up for the loss of the other two meals, especially if this one is presided over by the gentle mother, who cannot understand how anybody can eat so much. A healthful appetite will crave the roast of beef or leg of mutton, with vegetables and fruit.—Table Talk.

A MASTER OF MEN.

METEORIC CAREER OF ALEXANDER HAMILTON, PATRIOT AND FIGHTER.

Fortunes of an Immigrant Boy in the American Colonies—A War Hero in His Teens and a Ripe Statesman at Thirty—Duel With Burr.

(Copyright, 1901, by G. L. Kilmer.)

verdict of the rhymester reflected popular sentiment at the time, for the nation instantly caught the spirit of the opening lines—

Oh, Aaron Burr, what have you done?
You've killed great General Hamilton—and drove the scheming adventurer into exile. Hamilton was canonized and his name enrolled among the immortal few "not born to die."

Of the two men, Burr and Hamilton, it blood counts for anything in shaping human destiny, Hamilton should have been the adventurer and Burr the high minded statesman. One account of Hamilton's birth and parentage states that he was the legitimate son of a divorced Frenchwoman who had married a Scotchman and another that he was the natural son of a young English woman. Whatever his parentage it availed him little in life, for he was thrown upon the world at 13 years of age and began his struggles as a merchant's clerk.

The boy Hamilton was ambitious, but not a dreamer. He worked hard in a counting house in the island of Nevis, West Indies. Having the scribbling habit, he one day wrote up a hurricane visit which devastated the island and with that bit of literary success to speak for him sailed for the American colonies. He was then 15 years old and with the aid of a private tutor entered King's college, as Columbia was then called. Two years later the immigrant stripling leaped unasked to the platform of a patriot meeting and made a burning speech for colonial rights. That was the debut of Hamilton, the statesman and one of the authors of the American constitution. The actual outbreak of war found him equally ready for the work of the hour.

While the colonists were talking young men of military spirit began to get ready to fight. Hamilton, the schoolboy, formed a company of artillery among his fellows, and when the troops were needed in the field the New York convention accepted the body for active service, with its boy leader as captain. The battery was a model of discipline and attracted the attention of Washington. On his retreat from Long Island he gladly took it along to swell his little army. Fortune favors the bold. The troops were drawn up at White Plains to fight a hopeless battle. Swarms of British attacked the patriots, but when their main column attempted to climb the slopes where the Americans lay entrenched Hamilton's guns swept them away by platoons. General Greene told Washington of the boy artilleryist, and Hamilton was transferred to army headquarters, where he became the confidential aid of the commander in chief. For a youth of 20 Hamilton's swift rise to place was enough to turn his head. In five years the poor immigrant had reached the top. He was not only the aid but the spokesman of the greatest man in America. Washington used Hamilton's pen not as an amanuensis merely, but as an advocate.

Talent and dash are not so rare in young men that Hamilton can be set up as a marvel in this respect. But his courage was timely, his capacity exhaustless. One of the times that tried Washington's soul was after Saratoga, when the American army in the north had no foe to face. But the British, under Howe, were marching up the Delaware. Washington had given aid to Gates at Saratoga, and now that his own depleted army was hard pressed he sent one request upon another asking him to return the troops, with others as he could spare them. Finally Hamilton, then a colonel, went to Albany to urge Gates to act. The general proposed to return Morgan's corps to Washington, along with a few worn-out brigades, but Hamilton refused to be put off with that. He was indignant and talked back to Gates in terms which brought the re-enforcements. On the way down the Hudson the column crossed the lines of Israel Putnam, a semi-independent commander, who was ambitious to recapture New York. Putnam actually detached part of the Washington re-enforcements to help on his plans. Once more the young aid took the matter in his own hands. Said he to Putnam, "I now, sir, in the most explicit terms, by his excellency's authority, give it as a positive order from him (Washington) that all the Continental troops under your command be immediately marched to re-enforce the army under him." Veteran though he was, a major general and a personal power in the colonies, Putnam dared not oppose the beardless boy, because the boy had right on his side.

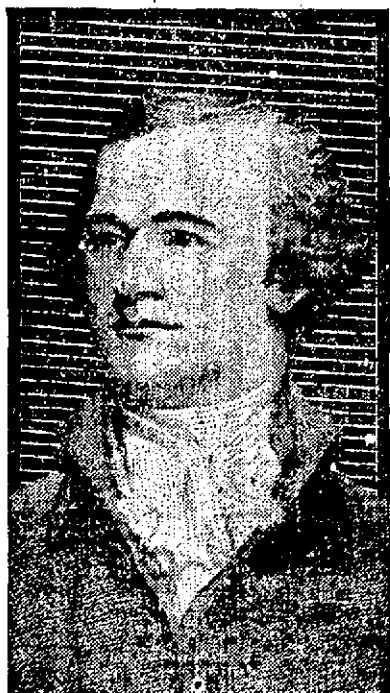

Hamilton's physical bravery was equal to every crisis. At Monmouth, when others were shaky and doubt hung over the leaders, he rode to the side of his chief and cried out, "Let us die here rather than retreat!" That was the spirit for Monmouth, but on another occasion he did retreat, and that in the company of one so gallant as Light Horse Harry Lee. After the battle of Brandywine Hamilton and Lee were sent across the Schuylkill with a few troopers to destroy a quantity of stores and rob the British of so much plunder. In the midst of their work the British appeared. Light Horse Harry and four troopers leaped into their saddles and rode for their lives across a bridge, while Hamilton, with the rest of the party, escaped by a boat, exchanging volleys with the British who thronged the bank until out of range.

In all the dramatic incidents of Washington's career as commander Hamilton figured. He was with Washington at the time of Arnold's treason, and it was from his lips that the general first learned the terrible story of guilt. He pointed out to Washington the disaffection in the patriot army which endangered the cause and finally resigned from the staff when he thought his personal rights were ignored. The courtship of Hamilton with Elizabeth Schuyler was an incident of his busy life in Washington's camp. He met his fate while on the mission to Albany securing troops from Gates for Washington. Afterward the Schuylers lived at Morristown when Washington made his headquarters there.

Hamilton's personality was his strong point. His weakness lay in an irascible temper. Washington once accused him of want of respect for his chief. "I am not conscious of it," said he, "but since you have thought of it we part." Although Washington tried to heal the breach, the young aid remained firm. Hamilton's figure was not commanding. He was light, but well made. "Little Lion" was a name which suited and which clung to him throughout his career. A fine shaped, symmetrical head, eyes deep set and full of light and fire, a long, sharp nose above close set lips, these gave to the advocate his "penetrating features," to the searcher of hearts his "piercing look." Socially "the Little Lion" was a favorite. Open hearted, hospitable, helping any one in need with both money and labor, declining heavy fees from the wealthy clients and taking none from the poor, the man who had made the nation rich left only name and fame to his family.

The self confidence of the "young West Indian" remained with the warrior and the statesman. As he had rebuked Putnam so he rebuked the senate for useless demands for information, and that august body took the lesson meekly. He forestalled an outburst of scandal by issuing a pamphlet which was at once a confession and an appeal, and the American public accepted it. The self confidence of Hamilton was not born of audacity nor conceit, but of conscious power. Impartial contemporaries said that he was the superior of Webster in creative force.

Burr's bullet was aimed not so much at a personal enemy as at a public Nemesis. Hamilton had denounced the arch intriguer again and again in the course of the fierce political fights following the adoption of the constitution. He tried to make peace with Burr and finally fought as a public duty to vindicate his dignity, his honor and his prestige as a leader of men. When the challenge was given, Hamilton asked for a delay of the meeting in order to settle important affairs for his clients. Burr used the time in practicing with his pistol. Just a week before the duel Hamilton presided at a Fourth of July banquet of the Society of Cincinnati. During the convivialities of the evening he was called upon to sing a favorite ballad, which he did with spirit, Burr being one of the company.

The night before the encounter Hamilton wrote a protest against the code, ending it with a statement of his reason for fighting.

Said he, "The ability to be in the future useful, whether in resisting evil or in effecting good in those crises of our public affairs which seem likely to happen, would probably be inseparable from conforming with public prejudice in this particular."

A hero in war, a master in council and a prince in debate, he could not afford to shirk an affair of honor. He made no effort to kill his antagonist, but coolly stood at a disadvantage to meet Burr's fire. His own pistol was discharged as he fell forward, and the bullet went in the air.

DRESS AND FASHION.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CONFECTIONS OF COSTLY ELEGANCE.

Splendor of Evening Dress as It Has Come In With the Opera Season. New Colors—Large Gold Roses a Fad in Millinery—The Collare, Etc.

Figure is more important than face nowadays, and skirts and bodices alike for evening dresses are fitted with rare skill, though young debutantes are wearing diaphanous materials, flounced horizontally or tucked perpendicularly, the full bodice being confined at the waist with a soft sash, which falls in long ends at the back. The sleeves are infinitesimal, a wisp of lace, a rose or so, or maybe a butterfly bow of ribbon—that is, for full dress and the many ball gowns that will be worn as the season advances.

The new dragee tones or bombon colors, such as Marie Antoinette affected at the Trianon, are the fashion in Paris and in England, and many evening dresses for dinner wear are being made in very fine soft cloth of these shades, trimmed with fur and lace. It is a splendid foundation for gold embroidery, which is all one can EVENING CLOAK OF TAFFETA: desire, when it is light. Paris is affecting various shades of gray. Ropes of roses tied up with chiffon find a place on the side of the skirt, and chiffon gowns are often scattered with floral leaves.

Taking it altogether, the ideal evening dress is of soft chiffon or lace bearing multitudinous frills, a little diversity of this scheme being noticeable in trappings of graduating rows of velvet, while the empire gown, with belts of wondrous embroidery, has a large share of popularity, perhaps the most conspicuous feature being the favor accorded to panne. Panné is used for these empire gowns, which under their most elegant aspect may be found decorated with garlands of chiffon roses, with perhaps a diamond twinkling on the petals.

The gold fever rages with unabated fury, the latest idiosyncrasy of the hour being gold flowers made of trelis and wire perched up aloft on the sable toques, while there is an epidemic of gold ferrets or tags to cravats and belts.

Full grown, many petaled gold roses are exploited by those who affect smart millinery. The millinery rose transforms an ordinary hat into a chic one. It is generally made of golden tissue mingled with green foliage, but it wants a first rate milliner to make it a success, and it is prettiest when softened by white lace, and so are the cloth of gold yokes, toques and low bodice trimmings.

The long coat of the illustration for evening wear is of pale yellow taffeta covered with gold threaded lace and lined with ermine, while its bolero, collar and cuffs are of sable, and the redingote is a Paris fancy in fine cloth, fur, silver braid and gimp over silk.
